Presenter: Dr. Cui Zhuoming (TCM)

Topic: Zhangfu-Radial Pulse diagnosis and its clinical application

TCM Pulse diagnosis is a quintessence of China, and a symbolic feature of Traditional Chinese Medicine. Arterial pulse taking has been practiced for thousands of years and the use of this technique has been extensively used and evaluated by TCM practitioners throughout history, and constantly demonstrated its effectiveness even in today's modern world. "Ping Pulse diagnosis", is a system that incorporated the use of both the Zhangfu diagnosis and the conventional pulse technique, to provide accurate clinical guidance in identifying the diseased Zhangfu. In This seminar, Dr. Cui will share his decades of clinical experience in Ping Pulse diagnosis and provide in depth explanations on the clinical use of the system.

Background descriptions:

Dr Cui Zhuoming (TCM), was born in 1955 in Guangdong province, Jiangmen Xinhui City in China. Doctor Cui, was an oncological surgent in China Zhongsan Medical school, and he migrated to Australia in 1987. In 2004, he pursued his further study in his Master research degree in Liaoning Medical University.

For the past 30 years, he was based in Bao Kang Medical Centre Melbourne as primary TCM practitioner and general manager. He also took role in the council of the World Federation of Chinese Medicine Society – pulse research group, and the council of ATCMA. He was awarded the Special Contribution Award and First Award in the 2nd international conference of the World Federation of Acupuncture-Moxibustion Societies. In the past years, Dr. Cui also hosted medical radio program on 3CW of Australia and has made a number of publications in medical journals. In 2017, he hosted the TV program "30 years of clinical experience in TCM pulse diagnosis" - translated on CCTV4, and he is always passionate with charitable public work.
