

CMASA JANUARY 2018 NEWSLETTER

New Year Greetings from 11th Chief Director of CMASA - Chen Shu Yi (Rose Chen)

Dear all member of the CMASA,
Wish you a Happy New Year.

The 11th biennial CMASA national council committee reform was held on the 17th of December. The council now consists of 30 members around the country, and we are now in the vigorous process of exploiting strategies for the better development of the association in next two years.

The aim of the current council is to:

- Provide better service to all members
- Improve the occupational rights of each profession within the association
- Develop CMASA into a professional and academically focused association

The council and I will make all efforts to facilitate the growth and development of the association.

Lastly, I would like to wish all members a happy 2018 with better health and much achievement at work.

New Year Greetings from Former Chief Director - Jianhua Zheng

Greetings to all members of CMASA, here I would like to act on the behalf of the 10th board of council to convey our deepest wishes to you for a happy, healthy and prosperous 2018.

It is my greatest honour to be titled as Lifetime Director by the 11th board of the council. The association was established in 1999 by TCM practitioner and acupuncturist who shared the same dream of “better Traditional Chinese Medicine in Australia”. I was given the trust by members to lead the association as the director. With much help from the council and member of the association in the past twenty odd years, we have become the largest TCM and acupuncture association in Australia. This achievement would not have happened without the endless and selfless support, and tolerance from my associates, colleagues, and the council and members of the association, and here I would like to show my greatest gratitude to you all. With your trust I will continue to provide my best to achieve a better future for Traditional Chinese Medicine in Australia.

CMASA NEWS

On the 16th of December 2017, members of the council from representing NSW, Victoria, Queensland, South Australia and Western Australia were gathered in Sydney for the 10th council auditory meeting. Chief Director Mr. Jack Zheng, and Directors from each state, Mr. Wencheng Wang (Vic), Mr. Yu Wu (NSW), Mr. Shu Yi Zhang (Qld), Ms. Leah Yi (WA) and Mr. Xiongwen Gu (SA), reported their work and their achievements were adopted by acclamation and an unanimous round of applause.

On the same night, the 11th CMASA Chief Director was also generated with anonymous vote. Ms. Rose Chen, one of the renown TCM practitioner in Australia, was elected to be the new Chief Director for the next two years.

Ms. Rose Chen, have had more than twenty years of administrative and directorial experience with ATCMA prior to the merge with CMASA. She is also well known from the SBS health program, in which she shares her medical knowledge and clinical experiences with the public on topics such as hypertension, hyperlipoidemia, menopause, Sub-health conditions and more.

To honour the dedicated work Mr. Jack Zheng paid tribute to the association in the past twenty years, the council decided to appoint Mr. Jack Zheng as lifetime director.

The day after the election, Director Rose Chen conducted the 11th CMASA council meeting and made strategic objectives for the association for the next two years. They are:

- Incorporate TCM acupuncture practice into the Medicare system.
- Maintain and stimulate higher level academic programs
- Assist members to improve professional skills and maintain competitive edge
- Facilitate communication with government bodies to improve our rights and to facilitate better professional practice.

The council has also made reforms on the regulation and the administrative structure of the association. Members of the council were appointed with specific roles and responsibilities for more effective collaboration in the next two years.
